Copyright agreement

By signing this release, the author confirms and guarantees on behalf of him-/herself and any co-authors that he or she holds all copyright in and titles to the submitted contribution, including any figures, photographs, line drawings, plans, maps, sketches, and tables, and that the article and its contents do not infringe in any way on the rights of third parties. The author indemnifies and holds harmless the publisher from any third-party claims.

The author agrees on behalf of him-/herself and any coauthors, upon approval of the article for publication, to transfer to the publisher the exclusive right to reproduce and distribute the article and its contents, both physically and in non-physical, electronic, or other form, in the journal to which it has been submitted and in other independent publications, with no limitations on the number of copies or on the form or the extent of distribution. These rights are transferred for the duration of copyright as defined by international law. Furthermore, the author transfers to the publisher the following exclusive rights to the article and its contents:

1. The rights to produce advance copies, reprints or offprints of the article, in full or in part, to undertake or allow translations into other languages, to distribute other forms or modified versions of the article, and to produce and distribute summaries or abstracts.
2. The rights to microfilm and microfiche editions or similar, to the use of the article and its contents in videotext, teletext, and similar systems, to recordings or reproduction using other media, digital or analogue, including electronic, magnetic, and optical media, and in multimedia form, as well as for public broadcasting in radio, television, or other forms of broadcast.
3. The rights to store the article and its contents in machine-readable or electronic form on all media (such as computer disks, compact disks, magnetic tape), to store the article and its contents in online databases belonging to the publisher or to third parties for viewing or for downloading by third parties, and to present or reproduce the article or its contents on visual display screens, monitors, and similar devices, either directly or via data transmission.
4. The rights to reproduce and distribute the article and its contents by all other means, including photomechanical and similar processes (such as photocopying or facsimile), and as part of so-called document delivery services. The right to transfer any or all of the rights mentioned in this agreement, as well as the rights retained by the relevant copyright clearing centers, including the corresponding royalty rights to third parties.
5. Online Rights for Journal Articles
Hogrefe Group will send the corresponding author of each accepted paper free of charge an e-offprint (PDF) of the published version of the paper when it is first released online. This e-offprint is provided for the author's personal use, including for sharing with coauthors.
Authors of articles in journals published by the Hogrefe Group also may:
 - Archive or post on their own or their institution's website or in their institutional repository a pre-print of their submitted manuscript (i.e., manuscript version before peer-review) for noncommercial purposes at any time

poses 12 months after publication of the respective journal issue

- Upon written request, archive on a website or in a repository mandated by their funding bodies a post-print of their manuscript (i.e., manuscript version after peer-review) (1) 12 months after publication of the respective journal issue or (2) as a result of and in accordance with legal obligations

The following conditions:

- Pre-print: This manuscript version should be labeled with its date and a statement that the manuscript in this form has not yet been accepted for publication.
- Post-print: Only the final draft manuscript post-refereeing may be used, not the version of the paper prepared and released by the publisher (PDF, XML). This final draft manuscript may only be posted 12 months after the article has been published in the respective journal issue. It must link to the DOI of the published version of the article, carry the publisher's copyright notice in the form "[Journal Title], [Volume No.], [Issue No.], © [Year] by [Publisher's name]", and include the following statement: "This article may not exactly replicate the final version published in [Journal Title]. It is not the version of record and is therefore not suitable for citation."
- e-Offprint/ Published version of record: The e-offprint is provided exclusively for the author's personal use. Other uses of e-offprint / published version of record, including but not limited to the following, are not permitted except with the express written permission of the publisher: posting the e-offprint / published version of record to a personal or institutional website or to an institutional or disciplinary repository; changing or modifying the digital file; reproducing, distributing, or licensing the article in whole or in part for commercial use.
- Full open access publication: Hogrefe & Huber Publishers provide an optional open access publication model for authors whose funding bodies mandate or who desire early or immediate open access publication.
